SUSTAINABLE GOVERNMENT MANAGEMENT

Governments at every level are being challenged to do more with less. They feel the increasing pressure of decreasing revenues versus a continuing demand to provide services to constituents. Faced with this unprecedented dilemma, governments are investigating alternative service delivery methods in response to the “new normal.”

For example, a survey conducted by the International City/County Managers Association (ICMA) showed 64% of respondents had investigated outsourcing of major government functions in the past three years. Governments are recognizing that they must run more like businesses in order to achieve viability, sustainability and success.

HR Green assists public entities with transparent solutions that help them serve their constituents viably and effectively.

HR Green is poised to help state and local governments meet their need for alternative service delivery.

BUSINESS ACCOUNTABILITY AND EFFICIENCY

HR Green's Governmental Services business line assists state and local governments to achieve their goals for efficiency, service level and sustainability by reducing their costs and risks. We provide unique solutions which include program management for local and state governments, public-private partnership (P3) consulting, and community redevelopment.

Program Management for State and Local Government: HR Green has been providing engineering services to public sector clients since our inception. We understand how state and local government operations work, and offer governments a variety of resources to improve delivery of services to their citizens. We assist our government clients in the management and operations of such areas as Finance, Administration, Public Works, and Community Development. HR Green professionals will help clients maintain service quality with challenging budgets.

HR Green's professional staff help clients identify, qualify, and implement workable ways to pool resources to optimize service delivery. These shared service opportunities provide another potential for cost savings to our clients. Our understanding of governmental administration is built from nearly a century of providing solutions to municipalities combined with the expertise gained by employees during prior public sector roles.

Public-Private Partnerships (P3): When funding shortfalls threaten to hinder repair and expansion efforts, governments can leverage partnerships with the private sector to fulfill the needs for improving infrastructure.

HR Green assists our government clients in searching for ways to apply P3. Our services include owner's representative services that determine the value of their assets, develop request for proposals and evaluate responses to conclude which submittal is best for them. HR Green also brings equity partners onto our project teams to address monumental needs when shortfalls occur.

Public-Private Partnerships

- Request for Proposal (RFP) Development
- Feasibility Studies
- Development of Infrastructure and Facilities

HR Green provides governments with innovative solutions that enable them to achieve their goals for efficiency, service level and sustainability while reducing costs and risks.

Community Redevelopment: Communities are revitalizing. HR Green's Community Redevelopment services facilitate the transformation of community resources to become more comfortable and safe areas to live, work and play. HR Green has leveraged millions of dollars to transform community liabilities into attractive assets. In addition, our team has used sensible incentives to attract development.

Communities want to become more sustainable, however they often face challenges to define what being sustainable means to them. HR Green assists clients with developing the vision, defining strategies, and implementing their sustainability plan. Our services also include establishing baseline data on current practices, setting defined goals and measuring the progress against these goals.
